Toronto, ON, November 16, 2009 – Executive Risk Insurance Services (ERIS) has introduced a new insurance policy recognizing the risks and needs of the Canadian privacy environment specifically as it applies to companies processing credit and debit card transactions. The new “PCI Privacy and Network Liability Insurance Policy” is the result of a partnership between ERIS and Moneris Solutions, the largest payment provider in Canada, and is offered exclusively to Moneris’ merchants.

“The collaboration is part of Moneris’ ongoing recognition of the importance of cardholder data security and Payment Card Industry (PCI) compliance for their merchants” said David Ades, Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing of Moneris. The Policy is designed to address the PCI framework including mandatory industry standards and rules which companies accepting credit and debit cards are subject to.

Once again, ERIS has shown its market leading ability to innovate and provide solutions which respond to clients’ needs for emerging liability exposures. “The new Policy maintains ERIS’ hallmarks of easy to read, clear and comprehensive coverage in addition to providing significant advantages for Moneris’ merchants, including a quick and easy application process, and preferential pricing” noted Murn Meyrick, Senior Vice President, Corporate Counsel, ERIS.
